

MODERN SLAVERY AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING POLICY

George Leslie Ltd acknowledges its responsibility to the Modern Slavery Act 2015, combating slavery and human trafficking and will ensure transparency within the organisation and with suppliers of goods and services to the organisation.

All new employees will be subject to “right to work in the UK checks” on commencement with entitlements and responsibilities conveyed in the staff handbook and supporting policies and procedures.

As part of the company’s due diligence processes into slavery and human trafficking, the supplier approval process will include controls undertaken by the supplier to ensure compliance with the Act.

The company will not support or deal with any business knowingly involved in slavery or human trafficking.

The company has a zero-tolerance approach and will immediately cease business with any supplier or any person acting on behalf of the supplier, which has committed an offence under the Modern Slavery Act 2015. We will regularly review our risk of human trafficking in our supply chain.

All employees and supply chain partners are encouraged to raise any modern slavery concerns which will be treated in line with company whistleblowing requirements.

This policy reflects our commitment to acting ethically and with integrity in our business relationships.

The company Managing Director and senior management shall take responsibility for implementing this policy statement to meet with the requirements of the Act.

This policy statement will be reviewed annually and published.
